National Environmental Policy Act and Civil Rights Statements
Supporting Rattlesnake Hollow Fire Area Closure
Cherokee National Forest
Order # 08-04-03-16-416

NEPA

Section 102 of the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) requires federal agencies to prepare detailed statements of proposed major federal actions significantly affecting the quality of the human environment (42 U.S.C. § 4332). The proposed action (emergency area closure for public and fire fighter safety) will result in no tangible or perceptible effects to the natural and physical environment; therefore the effects cannot be meaningfully evaluated in detail. Only social effects are affected. 40 CFR 1508.14. Therefore, NEPA Section 102 (2)(c) would not apply. This action is consistent with the Cherokee National Forest 2004 Revised Land and Resource Management Plan. No additional NEPA documentation is required to proceed with implementation of this order.

Civil Rights

Major civil rights are those consequences of proposed policy actions that, if implemented, would negatively and disproportionately affect groups or classes of people by virtue of their race, color, sex, national origin, age relation, family status, or disability. As Acting Deputy Forest Supervisor, I considered the impact of this proposal on the civil rights of minorities, women, persons with disabilities, and other protected groups. In considering the effects of the proposed action, I determined that the civil rights of any protected group or class of people would not be affected by this project. Therefore, it is my determination that there will be no potential for major civil rights or social impacts to those listed above related to the Rattlesnake Hollow Fire Area Closure, and a Civil Rights Impact Analysis (CRIA) and/or Civil Rights Impact Statement (CRIS) are not required. Although the actions appear as if they would affect ten or more persons or entities either inside or outside the Forest Service, I believe the CRIA and CRIS are not needed because the decision is an administrative action that is not listed as one of the six specific categories for which the preparation of a CRIS is required (see Forest Service Manual 1730).
